If this looks at all interesting, get Reassembly instead.. While limited to pretty much just urban areas and parks, this is a great base for a game. I feel that this is really a $30 product, however, because there aren't many characters unless you also buy the character packs (which I don't think are on Steam yet?). I'm also not sure whether or not you can get the sewer/goblin mini-expansion if you weren't a premium member on RPG Maker Web a few months ago.

If there was a "neutral" option, I'd pick that for this. I'll go with "yes," however, because the tiles are fantastic -- but they are limited, like every tileset sold on here. It's kind of a shame that there are so many nice styles but none of them can be used for a game with any sort of variety... this one included.. Not worth you're time .. I don't see hellboy..... It came with a bundle that cost me 79 cents...

It was cheap but I still think I was robbed!. Just no. Very weak narration, not much logic connecting all the actions. Plus, somehow I got the game confused and could not complete it - some items were removed from my inventory before I used them in all places (lighter).

Nice graphics though.

There are better in this genre.. Pure fun in this game. Like RTS ship games, this is it.

However, its even more fun when its on a sale ;)

Stoopid Game.. on level 12 the kitchen when you open the painting drawer for xmas mould you can't get out so cant get any further the game. Cheio de menções as histórias do Podcast e coisas dos anos 90. Isso não significa que você precisa ser ouvinte do cast para o jogo ser bom. Ele por si só é um ótimo beat n up!. My favorite Putt-Putt game. It's one of those games, where you get the feeling that the developers, came up with the title, and with it had all these great ideas of how to make a Putt-Putt game centered around time traveling. The environments are all unique and diverse as they should be. Traveling between time periods makes for fun puzzle solving experience. The randomized puzzles add a lot of replay value to the game. The music is simply fantastic. The characters are memorable. Solid Humongous Entertainment game. You should play it now.. Fun game,very easy to play,a lot of miniomns,tons of levels,pvp,market.
10/10.
